SHORT+SWEET TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Terms of Agreement

- The running time of my play is 10 minutes or less (scripts longer than 10 minutes will not be considered).
- Being the writer of the entered play I hereby give permission for Short+Sweet to perform the above play in the 2008 Short+Sweet Regional- Central Coast Festival and, if selected, at the Short+Sweet Sydney Festival in 2009.
- I understand I will receive no royalties for those performances but if selected for the final at Short+Sweet Sydney I may be eligible for various script writing prizes.
- I also understand that if I am not the sole writer or originator of the idea, story or material that the entered play is based on, the responsibility to gain permission for performance in Short+Sweet from all other writers or contributors to the entered plays lies solely with me and Short+Sweet can in no way be held responsible if I have failed to gain permission from those parties.
- In the event of proof being given to Short+Sweet, or Short+Sweet suspecting for any reason, that the work is not completely my own or that I have not obtained permission from all other writers or contributors who may have contributed the story, ideas or other material that the play is based on, my play will be withdrawn from Short+Sweet.

Privacy Statement

- Your personal information and play script will be passed on to the participating organisations (Newtown Theatre, Sydney, and the Laycock Street Theatre, Wyoming) and the judges of the competition for judging.
- Your personal information may be used to communicate with you about Short+Sweet.

I agree to the above Terms and Conditions.
(If you disagree your entry can not be accepted).

PERMISSION

I,, hereby give permission for the above play to be performed in the 2008 Short+Sweet Regional-Central Coast Festival. I understand I will receive no royalties for those performances but if selected for entry in the Sydney Short+Sweet Festival I may be eligible for various script winning prizes.
